Welcome to Leipzig

Leipzig is a dynamic centre of business and arts. Leipzig’s heart beats in its very compact city centre measuring just 1 square kilometre or little more than a third of a square mile. The former trade show buildings and arcades painstakingly restored since 1990 now contain numerous shops, restaurants and cafés. Leipzig’s pub districts also contain several restaurants and cafés and are marvelous for checking out some of Leipzig’s exciting nightlife. Visitors to Leipzig will discover many of the sights just by taking a stroll through the pedestrian-friendly city centre.

The Old City Hall, one of the finest Renaissance buildings in Germany, can be admired on the Market Square and houses the Museum of City History. To the rear is the Old Stock Exchange fronted by a statue of Goethe.

Welcome note

Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the scientific committee, we warmly welcome all participants of the 5th German Pharm-Tox-Summit which will be held from March 2–5, 2020 in Leipzig. As in the last years, the Pharm-Tox-Summit is organized as a joint conference of the member societies of the Deutsche Gesellschaft für experimentelle und klinische Pharmakologie und Toxikologie (DGPT), the Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Angewandte Humanpharmakologie (AGAH), and also features an integrated Symposium of the Paul-Martini-Stiftung. Bridging between clinical pharmacology, experimental pharmacology, and toxicology will be a central goal of this conference and implemented by joint symposia.

Overcoming borders in science, culture and politics is a key feature of Leipzig. The New Augusteum – venue of the conference – is positioned in midst of the center of this quickly growing and open-minded city. Leipzig ranks among the most liveable university cities in Germany. We hope you will enjoy the inspiring atmosphere of Leipzig and make the 5th German Pharm-Tox Summit an exciting event to foster existing and build up new scientific interactions, collaborations and friendships.
